

Scientific Program at the Essity booth

EWMA Conference

London, UK / 1 – 3 May 2024 / Booth G20

Wednesday 1 May

12:00 - 12:30

How to manage a diabetic foot ulcer?

Alison Schofield Independent Tissue Viability Nurse

Demonstration of an artificial wound on a model, followed by the application of various wound dressings.

14:05 - 14:30

Meet the expert - Infection management on a diabetic foot ulcer

Mr George Smith Senior Lecturer, Hull York Medical School

With reference to the symposium "Bridging the gap between scientific evidence and implementation in clinical practice to improve outcomes": a practical demonstration of the application of Cutimed® Sorbact® on a diabetic foot ulcer.

15:30 - 16:15

Creating artificial wounds - come and see how it's done

Alison Schofield Independent Tissue Viability Nurse

Step by step creation of an artificial wound, to support with the delivery of practical education for wound assessment and management.

Thursday 2 May

11:00 - 11:45

Creating artificial wounds - come and see how it's done

Alison Schofield Independent Tissue Viability Nurse

Step by step creation of an artificial wound, to support with the delivery of practical education for wound assessment and management.

12:30 - 13:00

Holistic assessment and care of a skin tear and venous leg ulceration

Alison Schofield Independent Tissue Viability Nurse

Demonstration of an artificial wound on a model, followed by the application of various wound dressings and compression solutions.

Learn about our holistic therapy solution combining wound care with compression therapy using JOBST® FarrowWrap®.

14:05 - 14:30

Meet the experts of our symposium

Ray Samuriwo Associate Professor in Nursing, Edinburgh Napier University

Luxmi Dhoonmoon Tissue Viability Nurse Consultant, London North West University Healthcare NHS trust

Use the opportunity to ask questions to our speakers about our symposium "Improving skin tear prevention and treatment: the priorities for people of all skin tones".

15:30 - 16:00

How to measure for circular-knit compression garments to support the treatment of venous disease

Krishna Patel Compression Therapy Specialist, Essity

Friday 3 May

09:45 - 10:15

Holistic assessment and care of a skin tear and venous leg ulceration

Alison Schofield Independent Tissue Viability Nurse

Demonstration of an artificial wound on a model, followed by the application of various wound dressings and compression solutions.

Learn about our holistic therapy solution combining wound care with compression therapy using JOBST® Compri2.

11:15 - 11:45

How to measure for circular-knit compression garments to support the treatment of venous disease

Krishna Patel Compression Therapy Specialist, Essity